Berry Hill Celebrates National Punctuation Day!

Berry Hill students celebrated National Punctuation Day on Wednesday, September 24, 2014. Fourth and fifth grade students, under the direction of our Music Teacher, Ms. Melody Hall, performed a "Punctuation Rap" during our Morning Announcements. A school-wide read aloud, "Exclamation Mark" by Amy Krouse Rosenthal and Tom Lichtenheld, was provided to each classroom teacher by our PTA Character Education with PRIDE Committee in conjunction with our Berry Hill Compact for Learning Committee. This read aloud celebrated punctuation while providing an important PRIDE lesson. Students also engaged in meaningful activities through poetry and literature that demonstrated the importance of punctuation in their reading and writing experiences.
