All About the PRIDE

Did you ever think about the fact that before a set of lyrics is put to music, it's a poem? Songwriters are truly poets. A song is poetry set to music. With the help of our Berry Hill Magnificent Music Teachers, Mrs. Kimberly Neri, Ms. Melody Hall, and Mr. Brian Fort, our students generated new lyrics to the tune of the pop song, "All About the Base" in celebration of National Poetry Month. "All About the Pride," a new song was written to further promote our PRIDE Program.

Each grade level wrote new words for a verse of the song. Students watched another lyrical version of the song called, "All About the Books," to generate many varied and unusual ideas for this year's National Poetry Month Theme.

All of our students will perform the completed song at a school-wide assembly in order to make a video recording which will be displayed on our Berry Hill TV. In addition, we will be featuring grade-level performances during our morning announcements.
